

PARR CENTER FOR ETHICS

End of the Year Celebration!

23 April 2020

5:30PM

Zoom

Event Program

Welcome | Sarah Stroud & Sally Moore

Stroud: Director, Parr Center for Ethics

Moore: Director, Undergraduate Programming

Senior Reflection | Alexandra Corbett

Undergraduate Fellow, Carolina Forum for Ethics

Senior Reflection | Jacky Wang

Undergraduate Fellow, National High School Ethics Bowl

Introduction of Keynote | Sarah Stroud

Keynote Speaker | Gary Parr

Senior Managing Director, Apollo Global Management

Founding Donor, Parr Center for Ethics

Recognition of Senior and International Fellows

Karl Adam, Sally Moore, Alex Richardson, & Rob Willison

Adam: Teaching Fellow, Parr Center for Ethics

Richardson: Director, National High School Ethics Bowl

Willison: Associate Director, Parr Center for Ethics

Final Remarks | Sally Moore

Following the ceremony, we invite you to join our virtual poster show to learn about our student-led projects!

2019–2020 Fellows

ParrHeel Blog

Ike Crickmore
Andreamarie Efthymiou
Maximilian Forster
Marina Greenfeld
Joseph Nieto
*Autumn Puello
Madi Speyer

Carolina Forum for Ethics

*Darian Buck
Caroline Carpenter
Alexandra Corbett
Julia Eccleston
Hunter Martin
Tendo Nakasenge
Ash Santos

Chapel Phil Podcast

Cailee Harrington
Max Hazerjian
Emily Rakes
Hamish Stewart
*Noah Upchurch

Executive Board Member

Ethics Profiler

Ehab Alhosaini
Henry Hawthorne
*Justin Hadad
Seamus Holland

NHSEB Assistants

*Guido Chiriboga
Scott Harn
Dominique Hicks
Spencer Mamo
Jonathan Sampson
Jacky Wang
Alec Way

Programming

William Applewhite
Liam Bendezu
Caitlin Davis
Annie Evans
Ananya Malik
*Sid Sirdeshmukh
Rali Sloan

Work Study Student

Gabriel Luna

William Applewhite

William will graduate with a degree in Philosophy, and a minor in PPE.

"My time at the Parr Center has been an amazing experience. I have learned a lot about working with a team to achieve actionable goals. It has been a pleasure to work with the programming pod because I can see how the events we plan serve the community."

Thank you, Will!

Alexandra Corbett

Alexandra will graduate with a degree in Philosophy and Psychology, with a focus on neuroscience.

"It breaks my heart that my time with a Parr Center has come to a close. The Parr Center has played an instrumental role in making UNC feel like home to me. I love being able to engage with in ethical debates, and play a role in bringing people together to discuss what a better world looks like. The Parr Center has fostered my passion for ethics, and has helped me to realize that I would like to eventually pursue graduate study in bioethics. I will cherish the friendships I have made at the Parr Center for the rest of my life and hope to stay in touch with everyone I have come to love here."

Thank you, Alex!

Ike Crickmore

Ike will graduate with a degree in Philosophy and Economics.

He plans to work while preparing to go to graduate school for Philosophy or Comparative Literature.

"It's been a pleasure working with everyone I've had the opportunity to know during my past few years at the Parr Center. Leaving is bittersweet, but I'm excited to see what the future holds in store for this Fellowship- especially the blog."

Thank you, Ike!

Maximilian Forster

Maximilian is a Philosophy and Economics student at Ruprecht Karl University Heidelberg.

He plans to finish his degree next year and then come back to the US for graduate school.

"What makes the Parr Center so memorable for me are the inspiring fellow undergraduates I got to work with, the many opportunities to engage with amazing Professors (from in- and outside UNC) and the exposure to topics I have never considered before. I also really appreciate and identify with our mission of making ethical discourses available to a wide audience, whether through podcasts, blog-writing, presentations or the high school ethics bowls."

Thank you, Max!

Marina Greenfield

Marina will graduate with a degree in English and Slavic Languages, and a minor in Creative Writing.

She's staying on as a permanent employee of the Parr Center, writing more poems, and scheming.

"When I first applied to the Parr Center Fellowship as a sophomore, I had no idea what a big part of my life it would become. I'm very grateful to the other fellows and my new colleagues for creating an environment so welcoming and collaborative that I didn't want to leave!"

Thank you, Marina!

Scott Harn

Scott will graduate with a degree in Philosophy and Political Science, and a minor in PPE.

"The Parr Center provided me with an outlet for ethical exploration that I will cherish for the remainder of my life. The work we do makes real impacts in our community and beyond. I am particularly thankful for having the great opportunity to work with the National High School Ethics Bowl team as that was what I spent the majority of my time with. The Parr Center will always have a special place in my heart."

Thank you, Scott!

Dominique Hicks

Dominique is a Philosophy and Biology student at Sorbonne Université in Paris.

"I am very thankful for having had the opportunity to join the Parr Center Undergraduate Fellowship. As an exchange student, it was a great way to immerse myself into the many facets of UNC's ethical resources. The fellows have a great sense of responsibility and engagement that kept me excited and motivated every week. Not only did I learn a great deal, specifically involving the organization of the NCHSEB, but I also made some great friends – and regularly had the chance to try out some delicious baked goods. I would like to especially thank Sally for reaching out to me and being so welcoming!"

Thank you, Dominique!

Seamus Holland

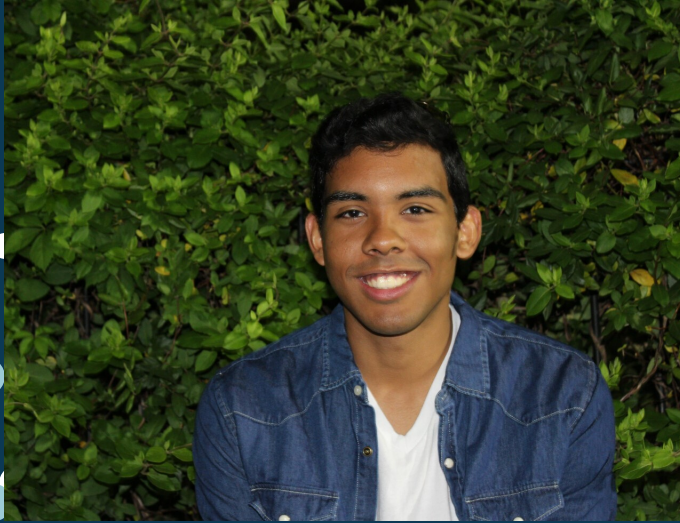

Seamus will graduate with a degree in Philosophy and Computer Science.

"Contributing to the Parr Center's growth over the past three years has been an incredibly rewarding experience. I hope to stay up to date with its future progress, fueled by more passionate, talented fellows and the same steadfast leadership."

Thank you, Seamus!

Gabriel Luna

Gabriel will graduate with a degree in Business Administration, and minors in PPE and Social & Economic Justice.

"Being part of the Parr Center was one of my most fulfilling times at UNC. I will never forget the wonderful people I had the chance to work and have fun with!"

Thank you, Gabe!

Spencer Mamo

Spencer will graduate with a degree in Philosophy, and a minor in Computer Science.

"My time at the Parr Center has been wonderful. It has been so fun and rewarding to see the work my pod has done with the NHSEB impact the lives of students around the country. Thank you to the NHSEB pod, Sally, and everyone else who has made my time with the Parr Center so meaningful. It was an absolute pleasure to work with such great people to advance a cause I care so deeply about."

Thank you, Spencer!

Hunter Martin

Hunter will graduate with a degree in Philosophy and Economics, and a minor in PPE.

"When I joined the Parr Center, three years ago, I was excited to be a part of real work in philosophy and to contribute to something bigger than myself. I could never have foreseen the wonderful friendships and memories I've made since. I'm deeply grateful to my fellow fellows, the Parr Center faculty, and Sally Moore for making the fellowship program rewarding and incessantly positive. After graduation, I'll be moving to Charlotte to start my working career!"

Thank you, Hunter!

Jonathan Sampson

Jonathan will graduate with a degree in Political Science, and a minor in PPE.

"I have thoroughly enjoyed my time at the Parr Center and that's in large part because of the people I've met along the way. And the free coffee definitely helped too!"

Thank you, Jonathan!

Hamish Stewart

Hamish is a Philosophy student at the University of Glasgow.

"My time at the Parr Center has been unforgettable and has totally shaped my experience abroad. This group has truly become my family and I have made some life-long friends. I will carry all the things I have learned at the Parr Center with me and plan to set up a Glasgow Uni podcast in 'Chapel Phil's' image!"

Thank you, Hamish!

Jacky Wang

Jacky will graduate with a degree in Philosophy and Political Science.

"My final year at Carolina has been the best year of my life, and it's no coincidence that it was also when I joined the Parr Center. The Parr Center has become a place where I feel both comfortable and challenged, a place where I have found some of my closest friends, and a place that has become a second home. It was an incredible experience getting to put on the NCHSEB and an even more thrilling experience to be with a group of people who are so passionate about what they do."

Thank you, Jacky!

Alec Way

Alec will graduate with a degree in Philosophy and Economics, and a minor in Entrepreneurship.

"The Parr Center, and particularly my work on the NHSEB pod, constituted some of the most fun and rewarding work I did in my time at Carolina."

Thank you, Alec!